

How to clean a fiber optic fusion splice box

Overview

Electrode Cleaning: Wipe down the electrodes with a lint-free cloth or a cotton swab dipped in alcohol. Replace them when worn out (typically after 1,000 splices). If the contamination is not removed, it can be incorporated in the splice, causing decreased transmission of the fiber, or a total blocked. Cleaning & Maintaining Your Fiber Optic Fusion Splicer This video takes you through the steps to clean your fusion splicing machine to keep it runn. more Is A Fiber Core Diameter Mismatch Causing High Loss Fusion Splice?

The Tragedy Behind the American Chopper Cast — Where Are They Now?

Fiber. Below is a collection of best practices for the use of cleaning tools and procedures to get the best possible data throughput the 1st time. The need to clean fiber optic connectors is well documented. The more difficult operation is cleaning the “backplane” end face. Because high heat is generated by arcing electrodes during the fusion splicing process, technicians should always follow the recommended processes supplied with the fusion splicing equipment.
