

South Korean optical modules seized

Overview

Customs and Border Protection (CBP) released shipments of South Korean cell imports bound for Qcells' module factory in Georgia after earlier denying them U.S. entry in connection with the Uyghur Forced Labor Prevention Act (UFLPA). The solar manufacturer contends no part of its solar cells comes from the Xinjiang province of China, the company is closely working with CBP and it is aiming for a quick resolution. (KOSDAQ: 046890), a leading global innovator of LED products and technology, announced that the Local Division Paris of the Unified Patent Court (UPC), which has jurisdiction across 18 European countries, has issued a judgment that Laser Components. ANSAN, South Korea - Seoul Viosys ("SVC") (KOSDAQ: 092190), a subsidiary of Seoul Semiconductor Co., has won a patent litigation against a European home appliance distributor that infringed its Violeds technology. A rigorous financial and operational analysis of nine leading manufacturers reveals a stark "K-shaped" trajectory.
