

The bridge frame project has been delayed for several years

Overview

7 billion project is complete, bridge officials say the remaining work is forcing the delay from the previously announced fall 2025 opening. "Taking the time now, we feel, is time well spent," said Heather Grondin, chief relations officer for the. While 98% of the $5. Unprecedented disruptions due to the COVID-19 global pandemic, compounded by the differing applicable restrictions in the USA and Canada. With its cost rising up to $700 million, the Gordie Howe International Bridge project development has been delayed by ten months. According to the Windsor-Detroit Bridge Authority, construction on the bridge is set to be completed for September 2025 with the first vehicles expected to travel across the bridge. If an infrastructure megaproject is completed late and over budget, it is widely judged to be unsuccessful. For instance, the delay to Crossrail, a new train line across London and the south east of England, has been labelled "appalling news". Crossrail is also projected to cost nearly £4 billion.
